How we work

There are 3 ways to set up a project with us:

1. Booking: You can book a specific talent with this fulfillment type. You can browse our samples and select the Bunny Pro that matches your project needs.

2. Contest: three Bunny Pros will audition for your project and you'll select -and pay- for the one you like the most. If you're not satisfied with any, you can request three more at no extra cost!

3. Speedy: The fastest way to receive a project is by creating a Speedy. This is what we recommend when you are in a rush. When you post a Speedy, we match your projects' brief with the best available Pro and deliver within hours.

Dynamic audio ads

Dynamic Audio Ads are audio ads generated with interchangeable sections that automatically change in order to adapt to each user they are played to.

This ensures that each targeted ad viewer gets the most relevant, recent, and effective promotional content.

At Bunny Studio, our team is fully prepared to deliver memorable and compelling versions and components of your dynamic audio ads to deliver maximized efficiency and excellent conversion results.

Dynamic audio ads

Cookie-cutter audio ads are no longer effective

With today's increasing volume of online information, attention is sparse and hard to capture. Data-personalized audio ads are an effective solution - but how do we achieve that?

You want to get rid of:

- Generic advertising that won't resonate with specific niches
- The struggle to find experts in dynamic audio technology
- Costly marketing investments with negative ROI

Bank wires*

*Bank wires are available only for clients that are based in the US. Factors such as local bank holidays, delays by an intermediary bank or other local conditions may delay the payment process. Please contact us through inboundsales@bunnystudio.com for further instruction in case you're paying with a bank wire, or have any questions about payment forms. Keep in mind that for each project you make one payment, and we at Bunny Studio will handle the payment to the Pros.
